

WELCOME

Children are Great Imitators, So give them something great to imitate.

August has arrived and I think it's the most perfect month of the summer, as our dear sweet August is a nice break from the thick, sweltering days of July and rainy days of June.

Children enjoyed moonson with full experiments, thundering Clouds, Cracking, Lighting and the freshness in the air.

QUALITY TIME IS IMPORTANT
No matter how busy you get while multitasking, always spend time with your kid. If you want to understand your children you need to make time for them. Spending quality hours with them is very important so that you understand their psychology. Spending time together gives the parent an insight about their child's personality.

"Life without friendship is like sky without sun"

Friendship is so many things to so many people and can be different for everyone. As we get older, good friendships are harder to find, but, for this reason, I think it's even more important to cherish and celebrate them. So to aware our kids regarding the true value of friendship, Junior DPS is going to celebrate 'Friendship Day'.
